OBAMA HONOURED THE 70TH ANNIVERSARY OF V-E DAY -----

On may 8th, the President honoured the 70th anniversary of V-E Day. On this occasion, USA commemorates the Allied victory in Europe during World War II. It is a day to pay tribute to the men and women who decades ago served and sacrificed for the cause of freedom. This was the generation that, by ending the war, literally saved the world, laying a foundation for peace.

The President asked that in addition to commemorating this important anniversary, we honour the men and women in uniform who currently serve our country, and recommit ourselves to the values we share with our allies in Europe and beyond: freedom, security, democracy, human rights, and the rule of law around the world.

"Today, we pay tribute to all who served. They were patriots, like my grandfather who served in Patton's Army""soldiers, sailors, airmen, marines, coast guard, merchant marines""and the women of the WACs and the WAVES and every branch. They risked their lives, and gave their lives so that we, the people the world over, could live free. They were women who stepped up in unprecedented numbers, manning the home front, and""like my grandmother""building bombers on assembly lines.

This was the generation that literally saved the world""that ended the war and laid a foundation for peace.

This was the generation that traded in their uniforms for a college education so they could marry their sweethearts, buy homes, raise children and build the strongest middle class the world has ever known." [?] Said President Obama.

He concluded "Let's stand united with our allies, in Europe and beyond, on behalf of our common values""freedom, security, democracy, human rights, and the rule of law around the world""and against bigotry and hatred in all their forms so that we give meaning to that pledge: "Never forget. Never again." [?] White House, Defence Department, US Army, US Air Forces.
